

Wanted:

An Estimator experienced in civil engineering based FRC Projects

TAG Construction Ltd. are seeking an experienced Estimator to join them in growing the company's FRC Projects Section where we have built a sound reputation for delivering a range of projects on time and within budget. Our company has a culture of loyalty towards its employees and a commitment to reward performance fairly. In return we expect a high degree of honesty and commitment from all our employees.

We currently need an experienced Estimator who is looking to earn a salary package in excess of £50,000 per annum and can bring with them a track record of success in winning tenders and delivering projects. A high degree of communications skills is an essential requirement coupled with the ability to work as part of a team.

If you want a challenge, this role will suit you. It has enough scope to demonstrate your professional skills and be generously rewarded for success in winning tenders and delivering projects.

If you want a confidential chat about the role give me a call directly and I will be pleased to speak to you.
